Postsecondary Transition:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Students who will continue their education in a Program of Study at one of the University System of Georgia institutions should prepare to take the ACT or SAT for admissions. Tests for admissions may vary from institution to institution. Contact the selected institution for specific testing information. Additional admissions information can be found at Staying On Course. (www.usg.edu/student_affairs/documents/Staying_on_Course.pdf) Students who will continue their education in a Program of Study at one of the Technical College System of Georgia institutions should prepare to take the COMPASS test for admissions. Students who will continue their education and training in the US Military should take the ASVAB assessment. Students should utilize electronic college and career databases to select the most appropriate postsecondary opportunities to match their selected career field, including registered apprenticeships. Georgia's dual-credit programs have been combined into one program entitled Move on When Ready, in which high school students may earn their high school course credits while taking college courses.

Possible Student Pathway Credentialing Opportunities:
Students completing a pathway are eligible to take a Credentialing/End of Pathway Assessment (EOPA) upon successful completion of the three required courses in the pathway. For specific assessment information, refer to http://www.gadoe.org/Curriculum-Instruction-and-Assessment/CTAE/Pages/CTAE-Georgia-Assessments.aspx

Therapeutic Services-Sports Medicine
Careers in the Therapeutic Services pathway are focused primarily on changing the health status of the patient over time. Health professionals in this pathway work directly with patients and may provide care, treatment, counseling and health education information. National labor market information indicates that eight out of the top twenty fastest-growing occupations are in the Health Science industry. (OOH) Based on an aging population and a retiring workforce, the demand for health care workers will remain high through 2020. As the roles of careers and Therapeutic Services change, professionals in this pathway will find increased opportunities to work independently. Additionally, an increasing number of career opportunities are becoming available outside of the traditional hospital setting. Educational levels vary from occupation to occupation. Most Health Science occupations require additional education after high school and require that potential employees acquire the appropriate certification and/or licensing. Workers in the Health Science industry must have a solid background in math, science, communications, and technical skills, be knowledgeable in their subject area, have the ability to communicate with others, and inspire trust and confidence. Occupations in the Health Sciences represent the largest and fastest growing industry in the United States employing over 10 million workers in more than 200 careers. Workers in sports medicine focus on improving the body's performance, recovering from injury, and preventing future injuries. Sports medicine is one of the fastest growing areas of health care, providing specialized help to many "regular" people, as well as athletes. Sports medicine professionals treat patients who participate in sports just for fun or want to get better results from their exercise program, patients who suffered injuries and want to regain full function, and people who have disabilities and want to increase their mobility and capabilities. Many careers in this field require degrees, and certification may improve chances to find a job. Employment of athletic trainers is expected to grow by 30 percent from 2010-2020, much faster than the average for all occupations. As people become more aware of sports-related injuries at a young age, demand for athletic trainers is expected to increase, most significantly in schools and youth leagues.
