Postsecondary Transition:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Students who will continue their education in a Program of Study at one of the University System of Georgia institutions should prepare to take the ACT or SAT for admissions. Tests for admissions may vary from institution to institution. Contact the selected institution for specific testing information. Additional admissions information can be found at Staying On Course. (www.usg.edu/student_affairs/documents/Staying_on_Course.pdf) Students who will continue their education in a Program of Study at one of the Technical College System of Georgia institutions should prepare to take the COMPASS test for admissions. Students who will continue their education and training in the US Military should take the ASVAB assessment. Students should utilize electronic college and career databases to select the most appropriate postsecondary opportunities to match their selected career field, including registered apprenticeships. Georgia's dual-credit programs have been combined into one program entitled Move on When Ready, in which high school students may earn their high school course credits while taking college courses.

Possible Student Pathway Credentialing Opportunities:
Students completing a pathway are eligible to take a Credentialing/End of Pathway Assessment (EOPA) upon successful completion of the three required courses in the pathway. For specific assessment information, refer to http://www.gadoe.org/Curriculum-Instruction-and-Assessment/CTAE/Pages/CTAE-Georgia-Assessments.aspx.

Therapeutic Services - Emergency Medical Responder
Occupations in the Health Sciences represent the largest and fastest growing industry in the United States, employing over 10 million workers in more than 200 careers. The primary focus of the Emergency Medical Responder is to initiate lifesaving care to critical patients who access the emergency medical system. This individual possesses the basic knowledge and skills necessary to provide lifesaving interventions while awaiting additional Emergency Medical Services (EMS) response and to assist higher level personnel at the scene and during transport. Emergency Medical Responders function as part of a comprehensive EMS response, under medical oversight. Emergency Medical Responders perform basic interventions with minimal equipment. Emergency Medical Responders include Emergency Medical Technicians (EMTs) and paramedics that care for the sick or injured in emergency medical settings. EMTs and paramedics respond to emergency calls, perform medical services and transport patients to medical facilities. Work is performed both indoors and outdoors and in all types of weather. The work is physically strenuous and can be stressful, sometimes involving life-or-death situations and patients who are suffering. All EMTs and paramedics must complete a formal training program. All states require EMTs and paramedics to be licensed, but requirements vary by state. Employment of EMTs and paramedics is expected to grow by 33 percent from 2010 to 2020, much faster than the average for all occupations.
