Session Overview

• Logistics of Small Groups

• Academic Small Groups

• Social/Emotional Small Groups

• Career Small Groups

• Small Group Resources
Format Considerations

Number of Sessions:
• Typically 6 to 8

Length of Sessions will depend on:
• Developmental level/attention span of participants
• Schedule of the School
• Flexibility of students’ schedules

Factors to consider when scheduling groups:
• Consult with classroom teachers to establish times for groups
• Consider school activities students may miss, such as lunch/recess
• Minimize classroom interruptions
Small Group Options

• One session a day for # consecutive days.
• One session on a certain day for a certain # of weeks per group. Rotate groups over the course of the school year.
• Group sessions before school. (Transportation)
• Group sessions after school. (Transportation)
• Group sessions at all times of the school day, but stagger so students do not miss same class period.
  (Session 1: 1st Period; Session 2: 2nd Period; Session 3: 3rd Period etc.)
• Group sessions during lunch.
Group Offerings

- Review Data
- Needs Assessment
- Counselor Comfort Level
- Three Domains
- School Climate...What’s Happening in the School?
- Based on counseling standards
Group Composition

- Heterogeneous groups:
  - Participants have different needs/problems or characteristics
  - Develop more slowly and tend to be less cohesive

- Homogeneous groups
  - Participants have same or similar needs/problems or characteristics
  - Develop more quickly and tend to be more cohesive

- Group Size
  - Recommended group size ranges from 4-10 participants, depending on age of participants and space available. Twelve is maximum I would take.
Communication

Communicating Offerings

- Newsletter to Parents
- During Counselor Introductions
- Teacher Referral
- Self-Referral
- Your website

They’re in...

Now let’s get them to attend.

- Email distribution list parents
- Provide students in advance a list of dates & the times
- Remind (a text messaging system)
- Passes the day before
- Passes the morning of
- Provide teachers with a list of students who should be attending.
To Screen or Not to Screen

- Tell student about group
- Ask student about his or her level of interest/commitment to expectations of group
- Pick participants (consider role models, maturity, diversity, gender, compatibility)

Options to screening:
- Rely heavily on teacher’s recommendation
- Students who you may see in your office about a topic that will be covered in group
- Offer multiple groups of same topic (allows more to participate)
- Have students write a summary of why they feel this group would be a good fit for them. What do they hope to gain?

• Girls' Groups - This group is really an extension of classroom guidance for all 4th grade girls. It is not a problem focused group and allows girls an opportunity to discuss and practice healthy friendship and problem-solving skills through fun games and activities. For more information about this and to complete the permission form, click here.

• Boys' Groups - This group is an extension of classroom guidance and usually offered to all the boys in 4th or 5th grade. It is not a problem focused group and allows boys the opportunity to identify characteristics of the men they want to grow into as well as opportunities to create projects based on folklore that are designed to promote understanding and value various talents and virtues that each boy in each group has. For more information and the permission form, click here.

• Banana Splits (Divorce Support) - This is a group available to students whose parents are divorced or are divorcing. For more information and the permission to participate, click here.
• Friendship Group: This group deals with socialization skills, friendship and self-concept. Lessons focus on students having difficulty initiating or continuing friendships.

• Play Group: This group provides extra time to work on appropriate socialization, and is primarily for kindergarten and first grades.

• Deployment Group: This group provides support to students from military families whose parent is somewhere in the process of deployment. Whether getting ready to deploy, actively deployed, or preparing for a homecoming, students may experience a range of emotions.

• Anger Group: This group helps students understand that anger is a normal emotion and that the options that they may presently be using to release their anger are inappropriate. They will learn different coping skills for anger management.
