Universal Design for Learning

An Effective Instructional Strategies Mini-Module to Support Co-Teaching for Student Success
Purpose of the Effective Instructional Strategies Mini-Module Series

• This mini-module series has been developed in collaboration with the Georgia Learning Resources System and the Georgia Department of Education.

• The purpose of the mini-module series is to provide information on effective instructional strategies designed to ensure the success of ALL students in the classroom.

• This mini-module focuses specifically on the framework of Universal Design for Learning (UDL).
Learning Targets

• I can define Universal Design for Learning (UDL) and explain the benefits of utilizing a UDL approach when designing and delivering instruction.

• I can identify the four components of UDL lesson design and discuss some of the specific considerations for each of the components.
Universal Design for Learning (UDL)

Universal Design for Learning is a scientifically valid framework for guiding educational practice that:

• Provides flexibility in the ways
  • information is presented
  • students respond or demonstrate knowledge and skills
  • students are engaged

• Reduces barriers in instruction

• Provides appropriate accommodations, supports, and challenges

• Maintains high achievement expectations for all students
Universal Design for Learning (UDL) is a framework for designing instructional environments to meet the needs of ALL learners.
Universal Design for Learning (UDL) is a proactive design or curricular (educational goals, methods, materials and assessments) that enable all individuals to gain knowledge, skills, and enthusiasm for learning.

COULD YOU PLEASE SHOVEL THE RAMP?

ALL THESE OTHER KIDS ARE WAITING TO USE THE STAIRS. WHEN I GET THROUGH SHOVELING THEM OFF, THEN I WILL CLEAR THE RAMP FOR YOU.

BUT IF YOU SHOVEL THE RAMP, WE CAN ALL GET IN!

CLEARING A PATH FOR PEOPLE WITH SPECIAL NEEDS CLEAR THE PATH FOR EVERYONE!
How does each item address a specific need?

How can designing for specific individuals benefit others?

Definition

Universal Design for Learning is an educational approach to teaching and learning, and assessment, drawing on new brain research and new media technologies to respond to individual learner differences.
Universal Design for Learning

Multiple Means of Engagement
Purposeful, motivated learners

Multiple Means of Representation
Resourceful, knowledgeable learners

Multiple Means of Action & Expression
Strategic, goal-directed learners
Universal Design for Learning Guidelines

I. Provide Multiple Means of Representation
   1: Provide options for perception
      1.1 Offer ways of customizing the display of information
      1.2 Offer alternatives for auditory information
      1.3 Offer alternatives for visual information
   2: Provide options for language, mathematical expressions, and symbols
      2.1 Clarify vocabulary and symbols
      2.2 Clarify syntax and structure
      2.3 Support decoding of text, mathematical notation, and symbols
      2.4 Promote understanding across languages
      2.5 Illustrate through multiple media
   3: Provide options for comprehension
      3.1 Activate or supply background knowledge
      3.2 Highlight patterns, critical features, big ideas, and relationships
      3.3 Guide information processing, visualization, and manipulation
      3.4 Maximize transfer and generalization

II. Provide Multiple Means of Action and Expression
   4: Provide options for physical action
      4.1 Vary the methods for response and navigation
      4.2 Optimize access to tools and assistive technologies
   5: Provide options for expression and communication
      5.1 Use multiple media for communication
      5.2 Use multiple tools for construction and composition
      5.3 Build fluencies with graduated levels of support for practice and performance
   6: Provide options for executive functions
      6.1 Guide appropriate goal-setting
      6.2 Support planning and strategy development
      6.3 Facilitate managing information and resources
      6.4 Enhance capacity for monitoring progress

III. Provide Multiple Means of Engagement
   7: Provide options for recruiting interest
      7.1 Optimize individual choice and autonomy
      7.2 Optimize relevance, value, and authenticity
      7.3 Minimize threats and distractions
   8: Provide options for sustaining effort and persistence
      8.1 Heighten salience of goals and objectives
      8.2 Vary demands and resources to optimize challenge
      8.3 Foster collaboration and community
      8.4 Increase mastery-oriented feedback
   9: Provide options for self-regulation
      9.1 Promote expectations and beliefs that optimize motivation
      9.2 Facilitate personal coping skills and strategies
      9.3 Develop self-assessment and reflection

Lesson Design with UDL

Watch the video below to learn about UDL and how to use the principles of UDL in planning lessons for ALL students.

Implementing Universal Design for Learning
Lesson Planning with UDL Approach

• Assists teachers in considering flexible options
  • Student diversity
  • From the start
• Start with the broad goals from the standards to develop accessible learning objectives for every student
• Consider barriers to learning from the start
• Consider multiple means of representation, engagement and expression
Four Components of UDL Lesson Design

1) Identify the GOALS or “Big Ideas”

2) Determine how you will ASSESS what the students understand, know and are able to do

3) Determine the Evidence Based METHODS that will be utilized to provide instruction to the students

4) Identify the MATERIALS and RESOURCES needed to ensure success.
Goals

- Determine the overall goal of the lesson
- Create learning objectives
  - Support the goals
  - Accessible to ALL students
  - Use verbs like “identify, summarize, express or select”
Assessment

• Link assessments to learning objectives up front
• Consider your learners
• Consider use of rubrics
Methods

• Evidence-based methods matched to student needs
• Use a direct/explicit instruction approach
• Consider multiple intelligences and learning preferences
• Consider the 3 Principles of UDL
  • Multiple means of REPRESENTATION
  • Multiple means of ENGAGEMENT
  • Multiple means of EXPRESSION
• Plan for co-teaching

Marzano's Nine Strategies for Effective Instruction
Materials and Resources

• Consider the types of materials and resources that are available to you:
  • Technology
  • Digital media
  • Assistive Technology
  • Leveled readers

• Consider having students help with the development of materials

• Consider both high-tech and low-tech options

The Four Components of UDL Lesson Design in Action

As they listen, participants should utilize the UDL Guidelines chart, the UDL Wheel and their knowledge about co-teaching to reflect upon the following questions:

• What did you really like about this co-planning conversation? What were the strengths you noted?
• Name some other learning goals, methods of assessment, instructional methods, or materials/resources that might be utilized but were not mentioned in this example.
• Do you have any questions about this example?
• As a first step, what might you do differently during your co-planning conversations in order to begin to implement UDL?

Consideration for UDL:

Does your lesson meet the needs of students who cannot?

- [ ] Walk
- [ ] Talk
- [ ] See
- [ ] Hear
- [ ] Behave
- [ ] Learn the way you traditionally teach?

*completed by Special Education Teacher or together
Reflection Activity: Participant Choice

1) Work individually or with a small group to read the article UDL: A Blueprint for Learning Success by Salend and Whittaker and summarize your findings utilizing the 3-2-1 handout. Be prepared to share.

2) Work individually or with a small group and choose one of the UDL lesson plans depending on the grade you teach. Read through it. Utilize the provided UDL Lesson Plan Analysis Guide to identify the principles or features of UDL that are represented in the lesson. Be prepared to share.

3) Work individually or with a small group to create a graphic or visual representation of the concept of Universal Design for Learning within a co-taught classroom. Be prepared to share.

4) Individually or in a small group, reflect upon this presentation on UDL. Using the graphic organizer provided, identify the UDL Guidelines that you recognized being used as a part of this presentation and suggestions for others that may have been included.
Can You Answer These Learning Targets?

• I can define Universal Design for Learning (UDL) and explain the benefits of utilizing a UDL approach when designing and delivering instruction.

• I can identify the four components of UDL lesson design and discuss some of the specific considerations for each of the components.
