

Access to Curriculum and SSIP Student Success “EZ-Pickin’s”

It's important that districts take advantage of the readily available resources to provide access to curriculum for Student Success. Examples of these resources are:

Low-hanging fruit: Providing access to gather and respond to information in alternative formats like braille, large print, auditory, and digital formats.

Higher fruit: Districts committed, through system change, to support Expert Learners who are strategic, goal-oriented, and resourceful.

Take Action!

Go to www.GIMC.org for information on accessible materials.

Email CASTPL4GA@CAST.ORG to learn about UDL implementation and professional learning.\

