ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

2081 – Non-Instructional State/Local Special Education Costs – Program code to be utilized to account for non-instructional costs for the Special Education Program. This program code will capture costs associated with the Special Education program that is allowable for Maintenance of Effort (MOE), but is not necessarily tied to direct instructional activity as intended by the QBE program codes. (FY 2019)

- MOE Calculation: NOTE: The school district must ensure that ONLY direct Special Education-related costs are coded to this program code. The costs associated with this program code would be included in the Maintenance of Effort calculation, thus increasing your effort. If that account is over-inflated with non-special education costs, the school district will have a difficult time in meeting MOE in future years. Additionally, the costs included in MOE are tested/evaluated by our Special Education budget office and external auditors. School Districts will be required to document the expenditure is for special education purposes, just as school districts are required to currently document that any expenditures are coded to the correct fund, function, program, and object code.

- Excess Cost Calculation: This code will also be included in the state and local Special Education costs when calculating the Excess Cost. The non-instructional program code will be mapped to the State/Local Special Education expense location. It is believed this will lessen the need to provide additional analyses of other expenditure resources to meet excess cost. Many of the non-instructional special education expenditures are currently manually identified for purposes of excess cost.

- Program code 2081 will NOT be included in the expenditure control tests pursuant to O.C.G.A. Code Section 20-2-167. The expenditure controls are related to those QBE dollars appropriated for direct instructional costs and should be coded to those defined QBE program codes.

- Some non-instructional costs are already being charged to the QBE program codes in pupil services, such as counselors. These types of expenditures that are covered on the QBE allotment sheet for Special Education can continue to be coded to those Instructional QBE Program Codes (2011, 2021, etc.), should the district be subject to expenditure controls.
Activities that may be charged to program code 2081 include, but not limited to:

- The Special Education Director’s salaries/benefits/office operations, any Administrative assistants to the Special Education Director
- Professional development specifically for Special Education instructors and professionals
- Transportation costs specifically for Special Education students, and
- Maintenance of building additions specifically for Special Education needs.

The following account codes are initially identified as allowable expenditures to the Special Education Non-Instructional Program Code 2081. Please notify the Financial Review Group if additional accounts are necessary.
