Set Reasonable Expectations

- It's important to establish reasonable expectations.
- Understand that many parents feel overwhelmed and don't know how to get involved or stay active in their child's academics.
- Keep in mind that you have a variety of "parents" stemming from grandparents to single parents. The traditional family still exists, but it is more common to see parents who are multi-tasking alone. It's important to build up parents and help to empower them to play an active role in their child's academic path at home as well as at school.
- Remember, just because a parent isn't extremely visible at school, doesn't mean that they are not involved at home. We have to give parents more credit for the work they are doing and stop focusing on the negative.

 - b. Provide materials and training on how to improved their child's achievement through literacy and using technology to foster parent involvement
 - c. Educate teachers and staff in the value of parent involvement; how to reach out and communicate with parents as equal partners, and build ties between parent and school (I have required 3 trainings or contact via email.)
 - d. Coordinate and integrate parent involvement programs with preschool and middle school transition (ESOL teacher meetings with parents could also be documented in this folder.)
 - e. Parent notification and communication in an understandable and uniform format and, to the extent practicable, provided in a language parents can understand.
 - f. Provide reasonable support for parent involvement activities as parents may request
8. Inform parents about the parent resource center, where applicable.

PLAY A ROLE

IN YOUR CHILD'S SUCCESS IN SCHOOL.

Get the facts...get connected...GET INVOLVED!

Schools understand that parents are busy people, but there are many different ways you can get involved in your child's education. No matter how little or how much time you have, there are many ways you can positively impact your child's education at school and at home. Remember, when parents get involved and stay involved, all students achieve at higher levels.

1. VOLUNTEER AT SCHOOL

Schools often send home lists of various ways that parents can volunteer. If they don't, let your child's teachers, principal, or counselors know your special skills and ask what you can do to help.

2. SHOW YOUR CHILD

THAT YOU CARE Have a conversation with your child about school and homework regularly. Ask specific questions that inform you about your child's day. Know what classes your child is taking, who your child's friends are, and other essential information.

3. KEEP IN TOUCH WITH

THE SCHOOL Get to know your child's teachers, principal, counselors and school's parent involvement coordinator. Make it a point to stay in contact with them throughout the school year.

4. EXPRESS HIGH

EDUCATIONAL EXPECTATIONS Encourage your child to take challenging courses and monitor your child's academic performance (homework, grades, and test scores) throughout the year. Emphasize effort and achievement.

5. ATTEND SCHOOL

MEETINGS, FUNCTIONS, AND EVENTS Make time to attend parent-teacher conferences, parent fairs, curriculum nights, award ceremonies and other school events. Your attendance and support matters to your child.

6. SEEK OUT INFORMATION

Request a meeting with your child's teacher regarding any aspect of your child's education. If you have other questions, ask the school by calling or sending a note so they can link you with the appropriate person who can respond to your needs.

7. BE AN ACTIVE PART OF DECISION MAKING COMMITTEES

Participate in parent or school leadership organizations. Ask your school about the Parent Teacher Association or Parent Teacher Organization, school council, parent advisory committee or other parent organizations and then join one.

8. MAKE SCHOOL IMPORTANT

Talk positively about school with your child. Send your child prepared for school each day with pens, pencils, notebooks, and homework completed. Make school a priority by ensuring they are at school every day and arrive on time.

9. BE SEEN AT SCHOOL

Arrange a visit to your child's classroom, have lunch with your child at school, or visit the Parent Center. Your presence matters and shows the school that you are invested in your child's education.

10. BE INFORMED

AND RESPONSIVE Ask, collect, read, and respond, if needed, to all information (school policies, field trip information, student handbook, etc.) that is sent from your child's school or teacher. If you need to receive information in a language other than English, call or visit the school.

11. VISIT YOUR

SCHOOL'S WEBSITE Access all kinds of information, including homework assignments, class schedules, lesson plans, test dates, and grades on your child's school website. If you don't know your school's Website, ask your child's teacher or the school.

12. PARTICIPATE IN WORKSHOPS THAT ARE OFFERED

Look for great opportunities to meet other parents at school through workshops that cover topics such as child development, school standards, and other shared parent concerns. If workshops are not offered regularly, help plan one or suggest ideas to your school counselors or parent involvement coordinator.

13. PROVIDE A RICH LEARNING ENVIRONMENT AT HOME

Make time for meaningful dinner conversations, trips, games, reading time, family sports, and daily routines. Activities like these will contribute to your child's academic achievement at school.

14. DROP IN ON AFTER SCHOOL OR EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Pick your child up from after-school activities or stop by a few minutes early to watch your child in action, if you are unavailable during the school day. It is also important to know your child's after school teacher, instructor, or coach.

15. INVITE THE COMMUNITY TO PARTNER WITH THE SCHOOL

Encourage local businesses, churches, clubs, or civic organizations that you are involved with to volunteer or financially support the school. Have community partners provide schools and families with information about services and resources they provide that support student learning such as mentoring, tutoring, and service learning activities.
