What Is a Family-Friendly Partnership School Walk-Through?

The Family-Friendly Partnership School Walk-Through is a tour and evaluation conducted by a team of representatives selected by school personnel to help gather information on whether families and community members feel they are welcomed partners in the school. Results will provide the school with information on how inviting the school appears, which will allow the school to implement new strategies to make the school more family friendly and improve parent engagement.

Who Should Be Included on the Family-Friendly Partnership School Walk-Through Team?

The team should be made up of ten people: three school staff, six parents and/or community members, and a team facilitator who oversees the Walk-Through but does not complete the tour or evaluation. It is suggested that the facilitator be the parent involvement coordinator, the parent liaison, or the school staff member primarily responsible for parent outreach. It is important to make sure that the team members are representative of your school and community's population. Teams members you may want to consider are: an administrator, a teacher, a bus driver, a secretary, a nurse, a custodian, a cafeteria worker, a counselor, a paraprofessional, a local business owner, an education partner, a community leader, a parent leader, a parent volunteer, a parent teacher association or parent teacher organization officer, an English as a second language parent, a parent who will have a child in the school for the first time next year, or a special education parent.

How Does the Family-Friendly Partnership School Walk-Through Work?

The team will be divided into three groups of three and will examine how inviting the school appears by evaluating checklist items divided under the National PTA's Standards for Family-School Partnerships ⁽¹⁾. It is important to make sure that the three school staff members in the team are each in different groups. After completing the tour and evaluation, team members will compile a summary of their findings and create a list of commendations and recommendations for the facilitator. The facilitator will then report the results to school administrators and facilitate the next steps of action. Note: It is important to make sure that Walk - Through date and time is kept confidential so school faculty and staff do not modify normal daily activities.

Your input is essential in ensuring that our students, parents, families, and community members feel welcome, comfortable, accepted, and secure at our school!

In order to remember your thoughts, please make notes as you complete the Family-Friendly Partnership School Walk-Through next to your checklist items.

Once your small group team completes the Family-Friendly Partnership School Walk-Through, you will have one hour to gather and share your team's findings. Remember: Record commendations and recommendations!

The meeting will conclude with each small group team reporting their results. The facilitator will collect the summaries from each team and compile a complete report to share with the school's principal and administrators. After this meeting, team members will receive information regarding the next steps and implementation.
