Activating Question:

Why is it necessary to consider the calendar and time management during the summer?
Purpose

Planning and organization are essential elements of effective school leadership which includes a focus on forward thinking for continuous school improvement.
Continuous Improvement Process

Throughout the school year, a principal keeps the “accelerator down” to keep moving forward.
Continuous Improvement Process

There is no “neutral gear” for a principal when it comes to school planning and work.
Continuous Improvement Process

A principal is always in “high gear” with the “accelerator” on the floor board! This is true even during the summer!
A principal should always maintain a focus on instructional leadership. By doing some of this planning and work during the summer, it provides the principal opportunity to begin the new school year with solid footing in this role.
Process

- Plan a Summer Schedule with a Timeline
- Be Intentional in Your Planning
- Make a Checklist
- Delegate Appropriate Responsibilities
- Don’t “Reinvent the Wheel”
- Make Notes for Next Summer
- Keep your Foot on the Accelerator!
