TLSD Frequently Asked Questions

1. Is the TKES Electronic Platform open for LEAs to use?

Yes, the TLSD Electronic Platform is open and plans are activated by the completion of the TKES and LKES orientation.

2. Are educators able to complete the TKES and LKES self-assessments in the TLSD Platform?

The self-assessment is required and should inform professional learning goals and conferences.

3. Must the “Pre-evaluation conference, Mid-year conference, and Summative Evaluation conference” be conducted?

The “Pre-evaluation conference, Mid-year conference, and Summative Evaluation conference” must still be conducted per state law. When conferences are utilized, they should be conducted in support of teachers’ or leaders’ professional growth during these challenging times and should not be punitive in nature. Evidence does not have to be uploaded to the TLSD Electronic Platform. The platform will remain open all year. We strongly suggest that LEAs document conferences with an established structure.

4. How many observations are required by State law and Board rule?

State law and Board rule require “multiple observations.” GaDOE interprets this as at least two observations for all teachers for the 2022-2023 school year.

5. Can LEAs conduct more than two observations?

Yes, LEAs can conduct more than two observations. Observations can occur at any time during the school year. GaDOE has guidance to use when conducting observations in a virtual environment.

6. What observation options should be selected in the TLSD Electronic Platform?

If an observer of a TKES plan rates fewer than ten Performance Standards, a walkthrough option must be selected.

7. Will the TAPS and LAPS Summative Assessment ratings be determined in the 2022-2023 school year?

TAPS and LAPS Summative Assessment ratings will not be determined because of the challenge of rating all Performance Standards and are not required by GaDOE or GaPSC for the 2022-2023 school year; therefore, Summative Assessments cannot be generated.

8. Even though Summative Assessment ratings have been suspended, can districts still complete a Summative Assessment?

Yes, districts may still rate all ten Performance Standards and complete a Summative Assessment. It is important to note that the TLSD Electronic Platform will not generate a TAPS or LAPS overall Summative Assessment rating.

9. Can LEAs address remediation needs?

Yes, LEAs can address remediation needs. Certificate renewal will not be affected since summative ratings are suspended this year. If an educator needs to remediate, the remediation plan section will remain open in the TLSD Electronic Platform. LEAs have the flexibility to determine their own remediation process. GaPSC will announce additional information.

10. How will the absence of testing play into the 2022-2023 Teacher Effectiveness Measures (TEM), Leader Effectiveness Measures (LEM) and the Student Growth Component? Will we need to use our district benchmark assessment in its place, so basically all teachers will fall into non-SGP teachers?

Teacher Effectiveness Measures (TEM) and Leader Effectiveness Measures (LEM) ratings will not be determined due to the suspension of the student growth scores. Therefore, the Student Growth component will not be rated in the TLSD Electronic Platform for 2022-2023 school year. School districts will not use district benchmark assessments to complete the Student Growth Component.

11. Will we be exempt from reporting UNSATS to GaPSC for SY23?

TAPS and LAPS Summative Assessment Ratings cannot be determined because of the challenge of rating all performance standards; therefore, they are not required by GaDOE or GaPSC for the 2022-2023. GaPSC will announce additional information.

12. Is the GaPSC still requiring PLGs/PLPs/PLCs?

Professional learning requirements are in state law. However, school system leaders will determine what is appropriate considering the local context and system expectations, and GaPSC will accept verification from school system leaders for renewal purposes. The TLSD Electronic Platform is open and LEAs can record progress on PLGs/PLPs/PLCs.

13. What are the GaPSC expectations for recertification/renewals now that a TAPS or LAPS will not be reported for SY2023?

GaPSC will announce additional information.

14. Should teachers on a remediation plan continue their plan for this school year?

Decisions related to the implementation and/or continuation of remediation plans are made by local school districts.

15. How does the non-completion of TKES impact induction teachers?

There will not be a TAPS Summative Assessment rating requirement reported to GaDOE or the GaPSC. GaPSC will announce additional information.

16. Can TKES/LKES training continue for new school administrators?

The TLSD team will continue to provide LEA support and trainings in SY 2023.

17. Are the TKES and LKES Re-Credentialing courses available on the PLO Platform in SLDS?
