Training Testimony
DR. JACQUELYN MESCO, DALTON STATE COLLEGE PROFESSOR

The Georgia Department of Education provided Dalton State College with the opportunity to train teacher candidates in SLDS. As to the training, all I can say is WOW!

SLDS is a fantastic asset for classroom teachers, and through this training, teacher candidates learn how to use this vital system. The teacher candidates learned everything from analyzing attendance patterns to drilling into student records to identify problems and gaps in their education. Because this system keeps years of data on each student, it helps teachers locate former issues and provide the support their students need.

The SLDS training was an addition to Dalton State College’s technical training, and our teacher candidates are even more prepared to go into classrooms of their own.

Free Online Live Staff Training Opportunities

The SLDS training team continues to provide live training on the Statewide Longitudinal Data System (SLDS). We have adapted to providing this training via an online meeting. Each session tailors the training to suit the audience in attendance and the allotted timeframe provided by the school or system-level personnel. All sessions are hands-on, so attendees should have computer access during the sessions. Once a training request arrives through email or the Training Request Form, a GaDOE trainer will reach out to the requester to discuss training options to meet the school's or system's needs.
